ALLIED HEADQUARTERS,
NORTH AFRICA, July 23.—(AP)— Admiral Wellington, raiding the Naples area for the third night in a row, flew through bad weather to blast the Capo di Chino airfield in the Naples suburbs, where R.A.F. bombers attacked the railroad yards at Salerno south of Naples, Salerno area was targeted yesterday by Marauders which scored hits on tracks.

Two-ton blockbusters were among the bombs loaded on the Capo di
Chino airfield.

Continuous operations over Sicily in support of the advancing Allied armies netted additional numbers of enemy trucks hauling supplies and troops between battle areas. R.A.F.
Bostons and Baltimore destroyed
60 trucks at one point near Trapani, 15 miles northeast of Enna, and damaged many others in a strafing raid on a convoy of 300 at another point.

Warhawk fighter-bombers shot down 17 planes in a dogfight over Sardinia Thursday while Allied bombers blasted vital rail supply lines through southern Italy, concentrating on the bad switching yards at Poggia.

An Italian communiqué broadcast by Rome radio said the planes also penetrated to the areas north and east of Rome but gave no details.

Out of 25 enemy aircraft encountered in an attack on Rome and rail transport in Sardinia, the Warhawks got all but eight as well as sinking heavily on ground targets.
It was the best combat record for a single operation in days. No enemy formations of such size had been seen recently.

Shuttle to Sicily: ISI Boats Take Allies In, Bring Axis Out

The landing boats that ferried Allied invasion troops to Sicily didn't return empty to North Africa. In these contrasting photos, British soldiers are shown wading ashore from an LSI (Landing Ship: Infantry), left, in initial invasion operations. Not much later, long lines of Italian prisoners, right, were put aboard vessels for return trip.

Printing Presses, Seeds and Food Are Gifts to Enslaved Peoples

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON, July 23.—(AP)—

By air and by mysterious underground channels the enslaved peoples of Europe are getting regular reminders—in a form more substantial than leaflets—that the United States is rich and generous and aims to do something about their plight.

Sewing kits, seeds, soap, and packets of tea, bouillon, and chocolate are being dropped by parachute or smuggled past Nazi barriers, each gift carrying a message of encouragement.

Officials of war information officials told these deliveries of the secrecy surrounding these deliveries into occupied lands and even enemy countries.

GREAT INGENUITY
Ingenuity in the design of printing and duplicating devices to help the underground movements of Europe in waging their own propaganda warfare.

They are easy to operate, for the benefit of amateurs. They include:

An all-union printing press, set up in four minutes. Hand operated, it can produce in an hour 1,200 copies of a clandestine newspaper. It weighs 22½ pounds in its suitcase container.

A miniature typesetting outfit, also suitcase-size, to go with the press. Even the printing types are of aluminum, to save weight, and alphabets are in several languages. Weight, 23 pounds.

A 12½ ounce mimeograph machine which can turn out 700 copies an hour. It comes in a containable size of a shoe box and can be set up in one minute. The complete kit with paper, ink, stencil, and other equipment weighs less than three pounds.

WELL-GUARDED SECRET
Even U.S. officials don't know much about how they get into the right hands. That is a well-guarded secret.

Axis leaders have sought to prevent people from picking up the packets of powdered bouillon by announcing that they are poison.

The envelopes of seeds are foods chosen for their suitability to growing conditions in the target country.

"Soap paper," an impregnated paper which lathers quickly, has the added advantage of being a fine vehicle for printed propaganda in French, Italian and other languages. The not-to-be-trusted soap is made by your friends the United Nations. Dip in water-use like soap. Wash off the Nazi dirt.

Two-ounce chocolate bars, highly prized in hungry Europe, are made to the United States formula, fortified with vitamin B.

As a truck star in the early 30s, he established 14 records, captured the 100-meter championship in 1920, and held various national championships for the 100 and 200-meter distances in the period between 1920 and 1929.

WORKED ON PAPER
In private life, Paddock served as general manager of the Pasadena Star News and Post and Times-Star, and as manager of the Long Beach Press Telegram, and contributed to magazines. A leader in the field of field artillery in 1918-19, he is survived by a widow and two children.

A Ughur native of Richmond, Va., and a graduate of the Virginia Military Institute, entered the U.S. army in 1914 as a second lieutenant and, upon his death, was the senior major general in the corps under Lt. Gen. Thomas A. Holcomb.

He had served in nearly every major barracks in the United States in the outbreak of this war, and served in Haiti, Cuba, Santo Domingo, China, France and Italy.

U.S. General, Olympic Star Die in Crash

WASHINGTON, July 23.—(AP)—

The crash of a naval plane near Sitka, Alaska, has claimed the lives of Maj. Gen. William P. Uphur, veteran hero of the United States marines, and Capt. Charles Paddock, Olympic track star of the 1920's who once was acclaimed as the "world's fastest human."

The navy department reported late yesterday that Uphur and Paddock and four other persons were killed when the plane crashed and burned Wednesday. There were no survivors.

The navy said the cause of the crash had not yet been determined.

BOOIES RECOVERED
The same of the planes four other occupants were not disclosed, pending notification of next of kin.

The navy said that the bodies of all passengers and members of the crew have been recovered.

Uphur, commanding general of the marines of the department of the Pacific and seasoned campaigner, also won the department of field of honor for service in Haiti in 1915, had been in charge of supplying personnel in the Pacific theatre since early 1942.

Paddock, 42, joined the marine corps as an officer July 10, 1912, and had been on U.S. staff since that date, serving both as an aide and as departmental major officer at the Pacific headquarters.

As a track star in the early 20s, he established 14 records, captured the 100-meter championship in 1920, and held various national championships for the 100 and 200-meter distances in the period between 1920 and 1929.

Have Had Big Losses Axis Air Fleets May Be Unable To Prevent Invasion of Italy

LONDON, July 23.—(AP)—First Allied Mediterranean air force, decimated the first 12 days of the Sicilian offensive and harried constantly by Allied aerial might, may be powerless to stop invasion of the Italian mainland, competent observers said today.

According to the latest official British estimates, the Axis has lost approximately 220 planes in or possibly since the Sicilian area since July 10 and probably had that number on the ground to bomb-battered airfields.

It is more than half the 600 Axis planes concentrated in Sicily and southern Italy before the island was invaded. The total number of Axis planes in the entire Mediteranean area then was estimated at 1,000.

This deficit for the Italian-German air, coupled with losses on the Russian front, might have greatly hampered if not crippled entirely Axis chances of stopping the advance of the mainland offensive, observers believed.

Line Up For Fight British Political Parties Strive For Post-War Power In Behind Scene Struggle

F. C. Daniel has told King Winston Churchill holds tightly to his job during a political trial that means there will be no election and therefore no political shake-up in Britain, until the war is over. But there is no truth in political maneuvering at the moment, according to the following article on how the parties are lining up for the fight when it does come.—EDITOR.

LONDON, July 23.—(AP)—Behind the battle scenes, the greatest struggle for power in 20 years has started in British politics.

Largest Camp In Dominion Is Operating

Largest military training area in Canada, the Winthrop training center is now in full operation. Army officials here are training first group of soldiers to train at camp is made up of 10,000 men from Alberta, Manitoba and Ontario.

Commander of the Winthrop training center is Maj. Gen. C. Fraser, D.S.O., who won his decorations on the beaches at Dieppe, L.C. Fraser commands a force of expert instructors who are given charge of platoons of soldiers. The training center is in full operation and the first group of soldiers has been received in England.

Armored cars, jeeps, anti-aircraft guns, 25-pounders, anti-tank guns and rifles all add to the fun of a training session at the camp. Men must learn to march six miles a day with full kit, to dig in, to push in and fight, at the end of the gruelling grind.

Armed and unarmed combat is taught for individuals, platoons, companies— teamwork when it comes to plan and carry out tactics for all soldiers to master. A lot of time is spent on the training of the training platoons, and the training platoons are the largest in size of any in Canada. In this respect, the training compares with the training centers have received in England.

Lt. Col. Fraser himself umpires the battles that take place daily on the 200-acre-mile training ground, and critics appreciate the day's routine. The training is to be co-ordinated with small unit work.

High Attendance At Naval Exhibit

renewed attendance was chalked up at the Canadian Naval Exhibition on Thursday when 234 persons paid for admission to the exhibit. The exhibit is the largest of the exhibition and many of the leaders of the labor movement were in attendance.

Ald. Sidney Parsons, president, Edmonton Trades and Labor Council, stated Friday that the exhibit is one of the most interesting he has seen, and that it would be visited by everyone who can possibly see it. He appeared to Trade Unionists who were unable to attend on Thursday.

Praises Troops Canadians Go Far And Fast In Sicily Says Alexander

By WILLIAM STEWART
AN ALLIED FORCE COMMAND POST, North Africa, July 23.—(CP)—Gen. Sir Harold Alexander, second in command of the Sicilian campaign, told Canadian war correspondents yesterday the Canadians have gone far and fast in the battle of Sicily.

At an informal reception held at his North African headquarters Gen. Alexander said "the Canadians are good and they will be jolly good."

"Like the American 45th Division which they went into the battle untrained and have done exceedingly well," the deputy commander-in-chief of the Sicilian campaign said.

"The Canadians are fine material. They have had very good basic training and they have learned from the experiences of others. They have gone far and fast in this battle. They will be as good as any troops."

The famed commander of the 1st Army group compared the Canadians to a football team. "No matter how much training a team has, it doesn't reach its peak until it has had some first class matches."

He explained why the Canadians had been put in the centre in Sicily between the Americans and the British forces.

"Was it deliberate?" asked a correspondent.

"No," replied Gen. Alexander. "The reason was that like the Americans, the Canadians are good and they will be jolly good."

"Was it deliberate?" asked a correspondent.

"No," replied Gen. Alexander. "The reason was that like the Americans, the Canadians are good and they will be jolly good."

The Bulletin's SPORTS CLOW by Hal Dean

ARROWS, occupants of the second berth in the senior ball league, have won seven games this season and Morris Hawkey pitched six of them, constituting a feat unique in local baseball history. Hawkey's only loss was to the Hornets on June 15.

While the Dodgers have been picked for three of the victories, two others were chalked up at the expense of the league leading Vanks. The Hornets were beaten once by him.

In compiling his list, Hawkey has not turned in any spectacular performances. He was resulting solely from steady work on the mound and in every game most of the hits and runs were scored against him.

HERE AND THERE PAT FLETCHER continues to hit the ball with great gusto out at the Edmond Golf and Country Club these days. On Wednesday he shot a 68, three under par, four birdies and a bogey being included on his card.

THE local grasshopper population doubtless has been suffering for the last day or so, for Cal Kevs, captain of Country Club heads Jasper Park this afternoon to do a spot of trout fishing.

IN his seven games the Arrows have yielded 44 hits, an average of slightly under 6.25 per game and the total of runs scored against him are 27, or 3.45 per game.

Here are the details: July 21, Dodgers 4-3 1 hit; July 24, Dodgers 4-3 1 hit; July 25, Hornets 3-7 1 hit; July 26, Vanks 4-2 1 hit; July 27, Hornets 5-2 1 hit; July 28, Dodgers 2-1 hit; July 29, Superstar has no peer in the senior league when it comes to hitting in the outfield. The Dodger center fielder has six outposts last night, one of the three he made in the ninth being a most spectacular catch. He has appeared in 12 games and has 34 outposts in his credit.

Through For This Year Count Fleet Not to Enter Arlington Classic Saturday

Gunder Haegg To Compete in Handicap Race

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., July 25.—(AP)—Gunder Haegg last night agreed to change Saturday night's mile race at the Harvard Stadium into a handicap affair.

I never have competed in such an event, but I'll do anything for the Army Air Force Aid Society's Swedish sensation, said Gunder Haegg, president of the American-Swedish Amateur A.A., which is sponsoring the benefit race.

Colson and Gu Duddi, the Boston University student who has been competing against Haegg for the last three weeks, and Don Burns, Dartmouth, will also be in the mile championship, which will start from scratch with Haegg.

Colson added that the other two members of Saturday's five-man field, Bill Hillier, the National Reserve champion from New York University and Bobby Knowles, the New England University student from Springfield College, probably will be given 40 and 60 yards starts on Haegg and have other handicaps.

Losers Use Three Pitchers

Hawkey Registers Sixth Win As Arrows Trim Dodgers 7-2

BOOSTING his win string for the season to six as against the Arrows, Morris Hawkey, ace pitcher for the Arrows, turned in a 7-0 victory over the Dodgers in last night's Senior Baseball League game at Renwick Park.

Hawkey now has three decisions over the Dodgers to his credit and has defeated the Arrows twice. His one setback was an 8-2 reverse handed out by the Hornets on June 15, but the Arrows' chucker squared accounts with two down. Wayne Hawkey, who has pitched for the Arrows, may not be able to play any more baseball this season due to the injury received in Tuesday night's game.

Cal Jimmy Kilburn is back in the city on a few days' furlough. He has pitched for the Arrows, former local club captain, and played with Dave Mackay's Nanaimo Clippers two winters ago.

Eddie Williams, senior baseman for the Hornets, may not be able to play any more baseball this season due to the injury received in Tuesday night's game.

THE Dodgers could not win the game on the night of the Arrows' victory. Smith was in the final inning, but the Arrows' pitcher, Edie Williams, started pitcher for Ralph Morgan's club retired in the opening stanza after two hits, a home run and an error were scored for three outposts. Bill Gould next on the list was touched for a run and a home run in the second inning. He worked Waverly Stupers in for the final two outs of the game.

Says No Reason Yet to Repeat New Holiday Schedule

Minister of Education States Only Legislature Can Alter Existing Act

While the legislative act which lengthens the school holiday period in Alberta this summer to three and a half months may be repealed by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council, there is no provision whereby it may be altered in any way, Hon. Solon E. Low, minister of education, stated Friday.

Since conditions remain substantially as they were when the legislation was passed, there is no reason why the act should be repealed before it is possible to judge of its value in meeting the farm labor shortage, the minister added.

Mr. Low made his statement in answer to criticism received over the lengthening of the holiday period. The legislative act lengthens the holiday this year from July 1 to Oct. 11 in succeeding years, the summer vacation will not start until Aug. 1, and will end early in October.

Early this year representations were made to the government, showing the supply of farm labor would be completely inadequate to carry out the cultural, production program assigned to Alberta. Mr. Low said.

An appeal was made at that time that adjustments be made in the school year to allow maximum use of services of boys and girls between the ages of 14 and 17.

It will be recalled that last year permission was granted students to be absent from school for two weeks during September and October, and then return to school to find that work was so far advanced it was impossible for them to catch up.

It was said that this plan did not work well as weather conditions were bad. Students were absent through most of September and October, and then return to school to find that work was so far advanced it was impossible for them to catch up.

It was then proposed that the school year be changed to make the holiday period from August to September. The government agreed that this was reasonable, and the necessary legislation was prepared.

In the actual bill, certain statutory holidays during the year are eliminated, with the result that about ten additional days were added to the summer holiday period. Thus, as the legislative council closed, about Oct. 11, and the students thereby returned to school, they were able to catch up on the work they had missed.

Africa Waits

By AHMED ABULLAH

CHAPTER XV
ZAMAN KHAN had seen the girl.

"Were it not for your presence, mem-sahab," he said to her in English, with a courtly bow, "I would now attend to this unimportant person and force him to eat stick."

"Oh," exclaimed the Algerian tranquilly—"you would, would you?"

"I would—and I shall, some other time, not now. The little mem-sahab does not like quarrels. Therefore—there!" he drew a small, filled purse from his waistband and gave the other a handful of money. "To pay for my debts—and for a meal of the best. Let there be tender artichokes cooked in the finest olive oil, a roast of lamb lovingly garnished with chestnuts and white grapes, a salad of hearts of palm, a platter of fresh figs and the best wine in your cellar."

Then, when Maise Toulman had gone to talk to the cook, he bowed to the girl.

"Would the mem-sahab," he asked, "honor us with her presence at dinner?"

She smiled.

"You certainly know how to order a meal," she replied, "and I must have quite some pulling in the kitchen. All I've been getting to eat here, these last few days, has been tough and ancient goat. I'll be glad to come—and glad to talk English once more. My French isn't so hot, and my Arabic isn't even lukewarm."

She looked at Lincoln.

"Tell me," she asked the Afghan, "does your friend know English, too?"

"He does," replied Zaman Khan, before the American could speak. "Permit me to introduce him. Ah—" about it day and night. Africa is deeply stirred by the murder—"

"Did your friend say you were going to England?" she interrupted.

"Yes."

"I would have said New England."

"A good many New Englanders," he observed rapidly, "were in my class at Oxford. But never mind that. I want to warn you."

"Africa, I repeat, is deeply stirred by the Darlan murder. It is in revolt. There may be other killings, chiefly in such far-away places as this. It may even lead to revolution."

"Why," she exclaimed, "how thrilling!"

"Thrilling!" Only to read about it, she thought rapidly. "There is no place for a woman Zaman Khan is going north. You must go with him."

She laughed then.

"Please be encouraged! I'm pleadingly, 'do what I tell you I'm serious."

"A revolution—and me on the spot. What a scoop! I wouldn't miss it for the world!"

USE OF THE X-RAY

When you see a picture of a group of people you are not likely to be very interested—but when you know that you are in the front row, the same picture becomes very interesting. Somewhat the same is true of X-Rays. You probably have little interest in looking over X-Ray pictures in general, but when they have been taken of some part of your own body, giving you the chance to say, "My X-Rays," then you look at them eagerly.

I have watched thousands of people who have just had an X-Ray examination and know how they behave. Usually, they are so interested in the picture that they have a hard time waiting for them to dry. Inasmuch as it is the first time they have had a chance to see what they look like on the inside, their interest is readily understood.

The doctor has learned to rely upon the help of X-Ray pictures because they make him sure many times he would otherwise be unsure. For one thing, they provide him with a definite picture of such hidden structures as bones and organs, which with such a picture in front of him, the diagnosis of disease becomes much more accurate.

For another thing, they help him to find what has been called "silent sickness," which is present when the patient has a condition which is causing trouble but not giving any signs which would point out the real cause.

Even before the trouble is well defined, it may still show on the X-Ray, long before marked physical symptoms occur. As an illustration, frequent arthritis and tuberculosis are often capable of being diagnosed by the use of the X-Ray weeks or months before they could be found in any other way.

The X-Ray is particularly valuable in diagnosing many of the conditions affecting the gastrointestinal tract, being used in the diagnosis of stomach ulcers, sprue, cancer, cancer, prostatic and tuberculous of the colon. When the colon is atrophied or flabby or from balloon-like pockets, as often happens in a long constipation, this condition is also easily seen by looking at X-Ray pictures of the colon.

Many times the symptoms complained of by the patient are confusing, for example, what seems to be stomach trouble may really be due to a gall bladder disorder or to a disturbance of the colon. By using the X-Ray the true cause of the symptoms may be found. In other words, the X-Ray is a very positive measure which may be used to excellent advantage by the physician in finding what is really wrong with the patient.

Moreover, early examination with the X-Ray enables the doctor to locate the trouble in time, during its early stages, at the exact time when treatment has the best chance of getting successful results.

The X-Ray is invaluable in the diagnosis of many conditions, including the following: sinus trouble, abscessed teeth, arthritis, fractures, gall stones, kidney stones, cancer, ulcer of the stomach, shoulder pain, prolapsed, and tuberculous of the spine. It is also an aid in learning the size and shape of the heart as well as its position within the chest.

In many instances the X-Ray findings are the heart of the examination, and the modern physician is coming to appreciate more and more this method of examining patients which so many times provides indispensable facts about the real condition of those coming to him to be helped.
